IN HONOR OF GEN. HARRISON

Handsome Informal Reception to the Ex-President by the Columbia.

No Speeches Nor Politics, but a General Good Time-Other Social Events and Personal Notes.

The Columbia Club was the scene last night of a very enjoyable reception to ex-President Harrison, It was entirely informal, but was made the occasion of a jolly good time for members of the club. The house was embelished with flowers and potted plants, in bloom and beautiful leaf, and everything was as neat as if a feminine hand had actually directed the work instead of the guiding intellithe officers of the club. orchestra added to the pleasure of the social gathering with some attractive music. As the members arrived they were greeted by the president, Mr. R. O. Hawkins, and the reception committee, and were in turn presented to General Harrison, Major Varney, commandant at the Arsenal, Major Lewis Morris, of the regular army, who happened to be passing through the city and was invited to be present, and to Admiral Brown, of the American navy. The reception committee, consisting of Mesers. I. S. Gordon, chairman. E. B. Martindale, George Merritt, A. J. O'Reilly, D. M. Parry, L. H. Levey, F. W. Morrison, A. B. Grover, W. H. Eastman and George E. Townley, was assisted by the ex-presidents, C. C. Foster and A.

After several hours whiled away in sociable, free and easy good time, the club was ushered into the dining room, where refreshments of very appetizing, but simple nature were partaken of. The table was very gracefully adorned with blooming plants, but the members did not stop to dwell long upon the bounties of nature. At the instance of President Hawkins, they fell to and helped themselves. It was a stand-up affair, and the members depleted the table of its contents with dignity, but with a thorough devotion to the privilege of the hour. The punch table, with lemonade and a mild claret punch the only contents, proved to be a popular place. The refreshments concluded with cigars.

There was no effort at speech making, this having been understood before, as General Harrison desired merely to meet his old friends in quite an informal way. He is an honorary member of the club, a connection honored by the fact that he lately shared it with the late Rutherford B. Hayes. General Harrison did not remain long after the guests left the dining room, but was escorted home by President Hawkins. The cordiality of the greeting was emphasized by the hearty handshakes and the sincere well wishes of those who were present. There were many expressions of pleasure that the General was looking so well. He seems to have succeeded in throwing aside all cares, and to have recuperated his strength to the point of his old-time vigor.

Robbins, Misses Dye, Miss Lewis, Mr. Allan Lewis and others are among those who ride, and the exercise promises to be very popular this Miss Charity Dye has designed an original book. It contains original paragraphs. sentences and remarks from some of the most famous writers of the day, and they are signed by the writer's own autograph. The cover and contents are unique and artistic, and with the signatures are valnable. The book was arranged to be disposed of for the benefit of the High School library fund, a project which is of interest to every pupil in the school, and in the progress of study, which is a need to every one. Several schemes have been tried for the purpose of raising the fund, but of all this seems particularly appropriate.

TESTING THE EXCLUSION ACT.

Initial Step to Be Taken at New York To-Day by Arresting Three Chinamen.

NEW YORK, May 5 .- Three Chinamen will be arraigned as prisoners in the United States Circuit Court, in this city, to-morrow-three men whose cases it is proposed to make use of for the purpose of testing the constitutionality of the Chinese exclusion law. It is a matter which has been amicably arranged between the Chinese Six Companies of California and the United States government, and that a hasty determination may be reached the United States Supreme Court will convene at Washington next Wednesday for final argument. United States Marshal Jacobs, as the programme is now laid out, will arrest three Chinamen to-morrow morning, as the law requires that al Chinamen must be registered and in possession of certificates showing their right to be within the limits of the United States on or before May 5. Two of the prisoners will be taken before Judge Addison Brown in the United States District Court as a Circuit Court judge, where lawyers Joseph H. Choate, J. Hubley Ashton and Thomas D. Riordan will be on hand to represent them. United States District Attorney Edward Mitchell will appear on behalf of the government and request of Judge Brown that he issue an order for the deportation of the two prisoners to their native country. With these formalities concluded, the three lawyers are immediately to habeas corpus the cases before Judge E. Henry Lacomb, in the United States Circuit Court, who has been instructed to dismiss the habeas corpus proceedings and remand the two prisoners back to the custody of the United States marshal to be deported. The third prisoner will be arraigned first before Judge Lacomb, as there are two avenues of procedure open, and it has been deemed advisable to test both. With this stage of the performance over the matter will then be in readmess to dispose of the cases finally. It is expected that the decision of the Supreme Court will be nanded down within a week or ten days after the arguments have been heard. The arguments pro and con, to-morrow, it is expected, will be exceedingly interesting. Much stress will be laid by lawyers Choate, Ashton and Riordan upon the unconstitutionality not only of the entire exclusion act, but particularly upon

Markham Will Watch the Heathen. SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 5 .- Governor Markham has received a dispatch from Secretary Gresham, similar to those sent to other Pacific coast Governors, in regard to the reported indications of danger of violence to Chinese. The Governor at once telegraphed a copy of the dispatch to the collector of internal revenue at San Francisco, and requested him to keep him in-formed of anything that transpired there in connection with the threatened trouble. The Governor also telegraphed Secretary Gresham that he would take all due pre cautions to prevent any trouble in Cali-

Wietting, New York.

State Secretary Rosean presided this afternoon. After organization and intro-ductions there were Bible readings by G. A. Hall, of New York, and an historical sketch of the association by J. G. Jenkins, of Detroit. To-night there was a public wel-come meeting, addresses of welcome being made by the Mayor and Rev. Dr. Powell, and responded to by the president of the association.

FISHBACK TO SULLIVAN.

He Directs the Mayor's Attention to Certain Nuisances That Should Be Abated.

When you had the Frenzel street-railway elephant on your hands you allowed Mr. Frenzel to erect and maintain a nuisance at the corner of Seventh and Alabama streets. The mule paths between the rails are several inches below the street grades and the top of the rails. As a result there are two ditches about a bundred feet in length which have been full of standing. stinking water for several years. At first sight they remind one of the water tanks between the rails on the Pennsylvania railroad, from which the tender takes water at the rate of sixty miles an hour. It has been suggested that Mr. Frenzel was preparing for rapid mule transit on the line, and by having nosebage on the animals and water tanks between the rails he could feed and water his stock without the aid of Stiffy Eikins and his "change boys." You made a whine about it once, as I am informed, but Mr. Frenzel gave you a rap and you knuckled down to him as you did during the strike a year ago. Now, if my relations with Mr. Frenzel were closer. would ask him to give you another rap and make you abate the nuisance. Since the boot toe of the new management has been applied to Mr. Frenzel's soft parts it is probable that he has no further interest in feiting whatever support you may expect from Mr. Frenzel in your future political Probably the most conspicuous stink you are now maintaining comes from the gutters on Market street, between Pennsylvania and Delaware streets. People from the North and West Side who carry their baskets along the sidewalks should provide themselves with disinfectants and aprinkle their strawberries, etc., with a solution of perchloride of mercury or something of the sort before using them. I address you officially because you are called the executive officer of the city-the Boards of Health, Works, Safety, etc., are mere understrappers-or, as the law describes them, the agents of the executive, and their duties are purely ministerial. WORKING HARM TO SHIPPERS

Illinois Millers Given Rates That Discriminate Against Indianapolis.

Attention of the Big Four Called to the Matter, but Nothing Done-General Passenger Agents Not in a Happy Frame of Mind.

Some weeks ago the statement was made that the Big Four had made arrangements which gave it the same advantage in offering rates that the Wabash and the Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City had as regards a part rail and part water route, and that it would now take grain over the Bee-line from St. Louis to Cleveland, and thence by boat to Buffalo, and through this arrangement its business out of St. Louis has been considerably increased. Now the same arrangement has been made with business originating at points in Illinois on the Big Four line, giving shippers at such points, more especially millers, advantages which Indianapolis shippers and millers do not enjoy, although on the direct line which gives such advantages to shippers west of here. The attention of Ford Wood, assistant general freight agent of the Big Four, has been called to this discrimination against Indianapolis, but so far he has been unable to remove it, and as a result quite a feeling has been awakened on the matter here. It will probably be taken up by the Board of Trade. A five-cent differential rate will help an Indianapolis shipper just as much as a shipper at St. Louis, or at some point on the line of the Big Four in Illinois. or at Terre Haute.

Unhappy General Passenger Agents. Said a general passenger agent: "If any class of railroad officials are to be pitied it is the general passenger agents. On the one side, presidents and general managers are demanding that the general passenger agents get good rates for business carried. and in this they are backed by the stockholders. The stockholders say to the men charged with managing the affairs of the companies that reducing rates at a time when all will have all the business they can handle at an agreed tariff between competing lines, is senseless in the extreme, and fully demonstrates the unfitness of general managers of such roads for their positions. On the other hand, the traveling public are no better satisfied with a 20 per cent, reduction in rates than if no reduction had been made, and were rates cut in two in the middle they would be no bet-ter satisfied." He added that the Chicago people were loudest in their demands that rates be further reduced, but he had not heard of any hotel, boarding house, or, in fact, any other business interest in Chicago reducing its rates, and none had gone to so great an expense, proportionately, to take care of the world's fair business as had the railroad companies.

Rates Still Tumbling. The St. Louis & San Francisco road announced yesterday that it had put in a round-trip rate of $37 from St. Louis to Colorado common points. This rate, it declares, is made necessary by the round-trip world's fair rates between St. Louis and Colorado points, which aggregate $37. It is easy for a passenger to purchase a ticket from St. Louis to Kansas City and from there to Denver at the round-trip rate of $27 made for the world's fair traffic, and the St. Louis & San Francisco says that as this is being done it has no recourse but to make a regular through rate to meet it.
The Missouri Pacific, it is said, will now meet the $87 rate made by the St. Louis & San Francisco, and the result will be a reduction in rates all along the line by competitors of the Missonri Pacific. Passenger men are growing disheartened over the outlook for high rates to the fair, as the prices keep tumbling, despite every effort made to bolster them up.

Must Pay Half of the Old Rate. Chairman Caldwell, of the Western Passenger Association, has decided that clergymen are not entitled to half fare on the reduced one-way world's fair rates. He declares that the reduced one-way rates are not regular tariff rates, but special reduced rates of a temporary character, made for a special purpose, and that the reduced rates for clergymen were intended only to apply on the standard tariff one-way rates. The clergymen must therefore pay as before, or travel on world's fair excursion rates. The decision also applies to all others to whom half of the regular rates can be granted under the existing rules. Personal, Local and General Notes. The summer schedules of all roads centering here will go into effect on May 14.

J. C. Mackinnon has been appointed general manager of the Chicago, Fort Madison & Des Moines. The Western Passenger Association has decided that secretaries of Young Men's Christian Associations are entitled to halffare permits, same as ministers. The receipts of the Vandalia freight station at Indianapolis for April, 1893, were $11,642 in excess of those of April, 1892, and the increase was entirely in local business. F. P. M. E. Ingalls, president. Oscar Murray. vice president, and J. Q. Van Winkle, general superintendent of the Big Four, are to-day in St. Louis inspecting the terminals at that point.

Since July 1, the beginning of the Wabash company's fiscal year, the net earn-ings have been $2,783,851, a decrease, as compared with the same period of the preceding year, of $185,088. The Wabash train dispatchers at Peru. Ind., are to look after the train movement on the new Chicago and Detroit line, which increases their mileage 175 miles, making 700 miles on which they handle trains. J. H. Watson, formerly traveling freight agent of the Big Four, has been appointed to look after the business of the Chicago Great Western in this territory. His head-quarters will probably be at Indianapolis. H. E. Doane, who was injured a few months ago on the Wabash road, and who has been in the hospital at Peru since that

The Lake Erie & Western propose to run trains from points on the eastern division of the main line to connect with boats via Michigan City for Chicago. They will make a three-dollar round-trip rate from Muncie, basing rates, both east and west of that point, proportionately.

The Vandalia will send its Chicago business for the world's fair over its Peoria division and the Illinois Central, the Big Four via Colfax, the Pennsylvania via Logansport and its own line via St. Joseph and the boat, trains to be run to make good connections in both directions. M. E. Ingalls, president of the Big Four lines, said yesterday "that at no time since he has been connected with the Big Four was the business of the road handled more antisfactorily than at present. There is no cause for complaint of the manner any department is now being conducted.' The Peoria & Eastern management has decided to appoint a wide awake soliciting agent at Peoria to look after the road's interests, in addition to the regular agent. who is also expected to have his eyes open for business. the country where competition is as sharp It is expected that the Board of Public Works will to-day take some action which will relieve the Big Four of the embarrassing position it is placed in as to laying its second track to reach the Union tracks and the improvements on South Delaware street, which will enable the company to do business on the west side of one of its new freight stations.

The Vandalis has had absolute control of the Terre Haute & Peoria but eight months, and is now taking a larger tonnage East out of Peoria than any road, the Lake Erie & Western excepted. The Erie Dispatch lines, J. W. Smith general agent, have taken Room 46, West Washington street, recently occupied by the Union line, and fitted it up very atractively for the Erie's headquarters at Indianapolis. It is stated that the Erie people will give more attention to business in this territory, and are seriously contemplating placing a man here to represent the passenger department. The company's freight business has been much better looked after in Indianapolis and this vicinity than has its passenger traffic.

R. B. F. Peirce, trustee and general manager of the Indianapolis, Decatur & West-ern, returned from New York yesterday. He states that the understanding is that the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton will take control of the L. D. & W. on July 15. thus giving ample time to perfect the reorganization scheme. While in the East Mr. Peirce visited President Hammond, of the L., D. & W., and found him more comfortable, physically, than he had expected, although his right side is paralyzed. On Wednesday he took his first ride since his

On Monday next J. V. McNeale, who has been auditor of the Indianapolis, Decatur & Westernsince Jan. 1, 1880, will retire, and will go to Baltimore to take a position in a prominent financial institution of that city. It is understood that A. P. Lewis, his present chief clerk, will look after the duies of that position until the reorganization of the company is perfected. Mr. Mc-Neale has made a record on the L. D. & W. of which he need not be ashamed; but for his skillful methods of handling the finances of the road it would have gone to the wall financially years ago.

The directors of the Peoria & Pekin met in Peoria yesterday and re-elected Joseph Ramsey, jr., president. Since he has held that position this road has seen its most prosperous days. In the company's last fiscally ear a bridge has been completed, costing $65,000; six new engines, costing $8,000 apiece, have been added to its power; a large sum has been expended in enlarging the company's yards and $40,000 paid in dividends to the railroad companies owning the property. The Wabash people seemed the most anxious that Mr. Ramsey should be re-elected president, despite rumors to the contrary.

New York Commercial Advertiser. Eckles, the boy Controller, has been in office long enough to coin the expression "a debanched dollar." Mr. Eckles should know better than to refer to the money of his own country in any such language. The idea is growing that Mr. Eckles should have been assigned to the Agricultural Department, with especial reference to the Bureau of Mule Lore.

They Grow Timorous. Chicago Journal.

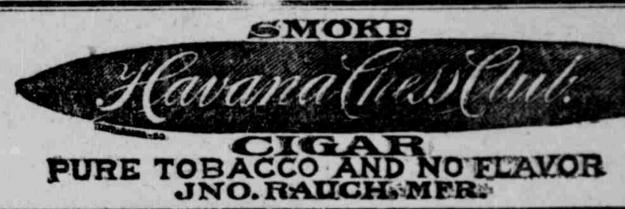

The nervous tension of the moment is increased by the knowledge that the advance guard of New York's "400" has started for this city. We can entertain a President, a Duke, and other notabilities too numerous to mention, but a weakening sense of our own unworthiness comes over us at the bare idea of meeting McAllister's own.
